

PSTS Thiraviaratnam: Frozen in Time

17th June 2008. It's exactly a year since our beloved Founder's soul departed this mortal world. An inspiring visionary, a generous philanthropist, a successful business man, a sincere guide, a caring friend, a loving husband, a wonderful father, a doting grand father and a ever-friendly great grand father. In short, an amazing human being! He continues to live in our collective memory, showering his blessings for one and all every day, every moment!

Is it possible to capture all these facets of a person who touched so many of our lives in so many ways? That's a tall task! What we could do in the days to come is to carry on the good work that he believed in, dreamt of and yearned to do! What we could do today is to capture that wonderful personality's face and gaze as a sculpture!

Here comes Ravindran, an ace sculptor from the Lalit Kala Academy who translated our desire into a piece of art. A frozen poetry! Ravindran spent about hundred days with our Founder's various images, meticulously moved from clay to wax to POP and finally brought his image alive in a metal. He was particularly impressed with the symmetrical and sharp features of our Founder!

Many ships may sail, many moons may come, many rainbows may pass, but the man who is a visionary in business and beyond will live forever, frozen in time!
